BRAND BACKGROUND:

Art of Earth is the result of our global search for the finest organic vineyards making wines within classic appellations and their traditional varietals for a pure expression of the region. Our wines are true to their origins and winemaking traditions without the use of pesticides or herbicides.

WINE BACKGROUND:

We have found in the South of Mendoza the best place to produce high quality wines, a fantastic setting where nature thrives: the province of Villa Atuel. Crystalline pure water flows through the Atuel river that water our crops. Atuel means "wail/lament" in the mapudungún language and the river's water is born from the ice on top of the Andes mountains.

WINEMAKING / VINIFICATION:

Classic vinification in stainless steel tanks. Alcoholic and malolactic fermentation with selected yeasts and bacteria under controlled temperature.

ELEVAGE:

520-540 meters above sea level.

SORTING OF GRAPES:

By hand

CLIMATE:

Semi-arid, wide temperature range.
Precipitation: 180 mm per year.

SOIL:

Semi-arid upland grasslands. Alluvial soil with different texture from sandy to loam.

Acidity: 5.4 g/L pH: 3.58 Residual Sugar: 3,3 g/L

NUTRITION:

Organic

PALATE/TASTING NOTES:

This fruit forward Malbec has an intense ruby color. The bouquet is an exquisite combination of plums and red fruits, combined with spice notes. On the palate it has a silky entry, with firm tannins and a long finish.

PAIRINGS:

As a traditional pairing with Argentinian wood-fired Asado, our Malbec is a perfect match to accompany venison, lamb, stews and aged cheeses as well.
